NOTE: The totals in the following section are automatically calculated. As you add new campfires, they will be updated.

These ashes started at Brownsea Island, where Lord Baden-Powell tried his experimental Boy Scout Camp over 103 years ago. Although they were removed later, these ashes actually contain microscopic particles from that very fire.

Since then they have picked up particles from 749 campfires around the world:

- From 60 countries, 35 U.S. States, and the District of Columbia
- From 51 Jamborees, 96 Camporees, 59 Wood Badge Courses, and 57 OA ceremonial fires
- From 2 flag retiring ceremonies
- From 1 Eagle Scout Courts of Honor
- From the ashes of three scout camps destroyed by Mount St. Helen's Volcano
